Hope that everyone is "surviving" the crazy winter we're having -- warm one day and sub-zero the next. Guess all the "indoor" weather has prompted a greater interest in numismatic/exonumia information.

The interest in the TAMS Library is certainly increasing -- requests are pouring in. I appreciate the patience that our borrowers have shown as I try to answer all the requests for books and research.

Rich Hartzog

As a TAMS Governor, I plan to continue my efforts in recruiting new members.

I support the TAMS Code of Ethics, but believe it can be improved to provide for the expulsion of violators.

I am opposed to raising TAMS dues.

I am in favor of: giving the Board the power to impeach officers by a mail vote; making the Presidents medal a reward for service, not a gift; and publishing more exonumia books.

As a full-time exonumia dealer, I conduct quality mail bid sales under the name of World Exonumia. I am a Life Member of ANA and TAMS, as well as a member of most other specialized exonumia organizations.

Kenneth L. Hallenbeck

Reagan Memorial Foundation. 1974 Assay Commissioner. Author of Boy Scout coin collecting merit badge booklet. Coordinated Young Numismatist and Intermediate Correspondence courses. With a proven track record as a worker I sincerely believe I can significantly help TAMS in whatever committee or project assigned.

Ben Odesser

Charter Member #27. Treasurer for six (6) years, (three terms), which entailed complete responsibility for over $250,000 in TAMS assets. Donor ($1,000.) of the Sylvia Odesser Memorial Award of TAMS for the best exhibit of Judaica. Attends annual meetings. Author of several articles published in TAMS Journal, such as 'The Jewish Star', 'Chicago School Lunch Tokens', 'Token Tracing' and others; member of ANA, AINA, TEC, AVA, ATCO, SCRIP, and local clubs. Retired Civil Service and Army Reserve. I will try to prevent the wasting of TAMS assets on frivolous projects.

Ed Quagliana

Ed Quagliana has been a numismatist, with a special interest in tokens and medals, for over 30 years. He served on the TAMS Board in '63-'64 and again '80 to the present. Ed has won a TAMS Literary Award for his Memorial Day Story and the Mishler Cataloguing Award for Rochester Potpourri, a listing of Rochester, N.Y. merchants and trade tokens. Currently he is a columnist for several suburban Philadelphia weekly newspapers and tokens is one of his favorite subjects.

His service to numismatics includes the presidency of the Rochester Numismatic Association, the Empire State Numismatic Association and the Chester Valley (Pa.) Coin Club. Presently, Ed is the first vice president of Great Eastern Numismatic Association and vice president of the Philadelphia Coin Club while serving on the Board of Governors of Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association and the Executive Board of the West Chester Coin Club. He holds membership in the Philadelphia TAMS, Maryland TAMS, CWTS and major eastern organizations.

Quagliana has devoted over 25 years to young numismatists. He worked at the national level with the inception of the YN program, became an instructor under the first Correspondence Course. For his efforts Ed was named Outstanding Adult Advisor for the YN in the ANA and elected an Honorary Life Member in the Rochester Junior Numismatic Ass'n. He was named MANA's Man-of-the-Year in 1980.

Quagliana would like to see TAMS become involved in regional activities in addition to its present national endeavors.

Joseph Schmidt

Joe Schmidt's first term represented true involvement; writing articles, columns, identifying mavericks, securing new members, served on 1982 Journal article awards committee and 1983-84 book review committees, authored more inter-organization memos than all other officers combined, and fought monetary waste (such as the deifying Past Presidents medal project).

Joe has a 15 year background in every phase of exonumia, author of 2 catalogs and over 30 articles, contributor or special consultant to Russell Rulau's 5 Exonumia works and 7 other books, Joe always invites member correspondence and answers all letters.

Your vote returns a man of unquestioned honesty and integrity to the Board of Governors.

Roy H. Van Ormer

Life member TAMS, CWTS, ANA, and member of other leading Numismatic orgnizations. Have served as an officer of Numismatic and Exonumia organizations; currently serving on CWTS Board.

Contributor to several Exonumia book projects. Strong advocate of exposing the increasing number of fakes plaguing our hobby, and I am currently authoring a series of articles entitled "Fakes and Fantasies" in the TAMS Journal.

I also believe that the most important contribution that our organization can make is educating our members. If elected to the Board, I will promote all worthwhile book and catalog projects offered to TAMS for sponsorship.

The TAMS members listed above have each received the required 10 nominations to be candidates for these offices. Accountants Veatch, Rich and Nadler will mail out ballots in May and receive and compile results for the TAMS meetings in July.

The biographies presented here are printed as received and have not been edited in any way.

Detroit — Founding City

The idea for TAMS was born in 1952 when a small group of token and medal collectors (known as exonumists today) gathered to discuss a national organization. Eight years later in Detroit, Michigan, on November 19, 1960, a dozen plus collectors met and formally organized the Society of Medal, Token and Obsolete Money Collectors. The name would within months become the Token and Medal Society — TAMS.

The Needles Family Saga

by David M. Gale, TAMS 4566

One of the great joys and challenges of token collecting is the dating of dateless merchant tokens. Accurate dating is essential for nineteenth-century merchants because these tokens are collected strictly by period, e.g., Early, Hard Times, Merchant (1845-60), Civil War, etc. Collectors of Hard Times Tokens, for example, would be disturbed to discover that the prize of their collection was actually issued before or after that period.

The process of dating usually involves matching the issuer's name and address on the undated token with a name and address in a dated city directory. Nineteenth-century merchants are usually quite accommodating because they moved their businesses frequently. This means that the date of issue can usually be pinned down within a few years.

As part of a larger research effort, I was interested in dating a token issued by Mr. C.H. Needles, whose business was at "12 & Race Sts," Philadelphia (Miller Pa 378). The first relevant record I could find was in the 1842 Philadelphia directory. "Caleb H. Needles, druggist, SW 12th & Sassafras." Since the tokens were "good for one glass of soda water," I had the right C.H. Needles, but the address was wrong. This is not unusual, so I continued searching.

In 1844, Caleb is joined at the 12th and Sassafras drugstore by Edward Needles, druggist, presumably his eldest son. In 1845, Edward moves his business to NW Broad and Vine, but returns to SW 12th and Sassafras in 1846, when another Needles, Tristram, is listed as a druggist at 492 Sassafras. Caleb doesn't move. In 1847, Caleb continues to be listed at SW 12th and Sassafras. Edward moves back to NW Broad and Vine, Tristram remains at 492 Sassafras, and a new druggist, William Needles, appears at NW Broad and Vine (business), but lives in a house at 12th "below" Sassafras.

The status quo is retained until 1849, when Edward now lives at the house at SW 12th and Sassafras (to join Caleb at his place of business), and Caleb moves into a house at 179 N. 8th St., but his business stays put. I was encouraged that Caleb has finally caught the moving bug from his sons.

Also in 1849, William still lives at 12th below Sassafras, but moves his business to 23 S. Wharfs. The steadfast Tristram remains at 492 Sassafras. William is listed as both druggist and merchant in 1849, but in 1850 the druggist part of the listing is dropped, and he is described solely as a "merchant." In 1851, William drops out of the listings altogether, but returns in 1855 when a William H. Needles is found at SW 10th and Race, with a house at 425 Arch (Sassafras St. was renamed Race St. in that year). In 1852, Edward is dropped from the listing. Caleb and Tristram continue to be listed through 1855 without change except that Sassafras is now Race, and somehow Tristram's street number gets recorded as 493. Paydirt! Caleb H. Needles is located at "12 and Race" in 1855. This is the earliest possible issue date for the token. Move, Caleb, move.

The year 1856 is uneventful for the Needles family except that Tristram, after a relatively stable beginning, decides to take the plunge and moves his business next door to 495 Race, Caleb and William remaining at 12th and Race and 10th and Race, respectively. Things settle down until 1858, when Tristram gets itchy again and boldly moves his business all the way to 1339 Race. William disappears from the listings. Tristram moves his home to 1341½ Race in 1859, but keeps his business at 1339 Race. Throughout, Caleb remains at 12th and Race, the address on the token.

Caleb moves in 1860, but again it's his house (to 150 N. 12th), not his business! Caleb is simply not cooperating. Not moving his business by 1860 is going to mean trouble. In 1861, we're going to enter the Civil War period. His token has already been given a NC (non-contemporary) designation by members of the Civil War Token Society (PA NC-19), which might turn out to be incorrect. Furthermore, I'm overstaying my welcome at the library. At most libraries, nineteenth-century city directories, when you are lucky enough to find them, are in the "closed stacks." This means you have to fill out call cards, and a staff member has to go fetch each volume you need. In the beginning, the librarian seemed mildly interested when I told him what I was up to. "Ah, a numismatist," he said. That made me feel good, since nobody had ever called me that before. After six or seven trips back and forth to the stacks — you are only allowed to hold three volumes out at any time — he mumbled something under his breath to characterize me, the details of which I'd rather not record here.

I decided to stay, welcome or not. After all, my dollar research fee had been paid, and my yellow visitor's badge was properly fastened to my shirt pocket. I filled out three more cards, took a deep breath, and presented them at the desk.

In 1861, William returns and sets up business as a druggist at 474 N. 7th St., Tristram stays put, but most important, Caleb changes his listing from "druggist" to "pharmaceutist and truss maker." I was encouraged by Caleb's change in listing. In previous searches, I'd noted that changes in professions usually meant imminent changes in address and/or were a prelude to retirement. After all, Caleb had been in business for some twenty years, had three grown sons, two of whom would follow in their father's footsteps as Philadelphia druggists. An early retirement wouldn't be unreasonable. Retire, Caleb, retire.

Caleb H. Needles(')...tokens belong to everyone.

In 1862, the business listing for Caleb H. Needles is changed from "SW 12th and Race" to "1200 Race." This could be it! The token says "12 & Race." I noted that the space between "12" and "&" plus the space for the "&" could have been replaced by the two zeroes in "1200" with little change in token design, but they weren't. This would date the token between 1855 and 1861, almost "NC." I glanced up to note that the grumpy man behind the desk had been replaced by a smiling young girl. Perhaps my luck had changed.

During the next fifteen years, Caleb is listed variously as at "SW 12th and Race," "1200 Race" and even "Race corner of 12th." He changes the way his address is listed, but not his address. The boys appear and disappear and move around like Mexican jumping beans. A fourth son, Caleb H. Needles, Jr., becomes a druggist. The smiling young girl behind the desk turns grumpy.

It was during my search of the 1876 Philadelphia directory that certain thoughts began to enter my mind. At first, I suppressed them, giving my work as much attention as I could. Soon, I was thinking, "Gee, Caleb certainly has had a rich, long life...Let's see, he's been in business since 1842; that's thirty-four years — must have had a fairly long apprenticeship before that, say ten-fifteen years — should be in his late sixties, early seventies...Lifespans were much shorter in those days."

As I left the 1870's, Caleb Jr.'s apprenticeship is coming to a close, and he begins to be listed as a "chemist." In 1881, he associates with Edward to form "Needles and Brother" at 135 S. Front St., first as chemists, then as "brokers." But Caleb, Sr., remains at 12th and Race.

Each year that I continued to search brought added difficulties for the little girl who carried the directory volumes back and forth, since as population increased in Philadelphia, so did the books' size and weight. Enough is enough. Die, Caleb, die.

In 1884, Caleb Sr. finally retires to the truss manufacturing business, moving to 154 N. 12th St. A year later, his death is announced by a reference to the "estate of Caleb H. Needles." I thought I'd be happy at his demise, but I wasn't. Somehow, I felt that my ill wishes had hastened the end. Caleb H. Needles began his business during the Hard Times period, and remained at its steady helm through the Merchant, Civil War, and Trade token periods. His tokens belong to everyone.■

Notes on K.K.K. Tokens

by Robert W. Ross III, TAMS LM 41

(Part three of a series of articles with additions and clarifications that supplement Dale E. Birdsell's booklet, Ku Klux Klan Tokens.)

Recent Issues

(Third Movement — KK-300 Series)

All of these recent issues are of the United Klans of America (UKA) and have been issued since the publishing of Birdsall's booklet in 1981.

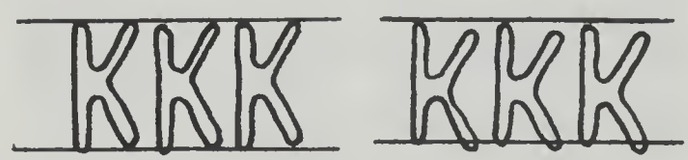
KK-308 (See pages 22 & 23 for original description.) As can be seen from this illustration, the token was issued with bust facing right, rather than facing forward as the preliminary artwork on page 23 shows. 250 were struck. It was released on September 4, 1981.

KK-309 1982. Obverse shows a Klansman mounted on a horse, with the inscription NON SILBA SED ANTHAR / 1982. The reverse is the same as KK-308. Aluminum, 40mm.

Note: These were not available to collectors until 1983, as they were only issued to UKA members who paid their 1982 dues. Presumably there were some left over.

KK-305.1 An unlisted variety, assigned this catalog number because it is the same as KK-305 except for the following:

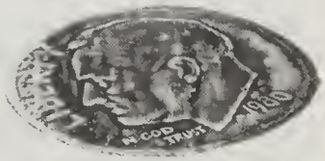
1. Brass metal is bright with no military finish in lettering.
2. Incuse letters are larger and thicker.



3. Whereas the cut-out letters of "KKK" are in a straight line at the top and bottom on KK-305, on this token the top right part of each of the "K's" is below the left part, and the bottom right part of each of the "K's" is beyond the left part (see illustration). Brass, 46mm.

KE-301 1981. Elongated Cent. The obverse inscription, PROUD TO BE / KKK

(American flag) F B (vertically, at right side) / 100% AMERICAN, is entirely surrounded by stars. Reverse is a 1981 Lincoln cent. Copper, 20 x 36mm.
Note: The initials "F B" are presumably those of the designer/engraver.



KE-301.1 1981. Elongated Dime. Same die as KE-301. Reverses are copper-nickel (clad) dimes of various dates. 18 x 38mm.
Note: Due to the dime planchet being smaller (top to bottom distance is 18mm vs. 20mm), the stars surrounding the obverse design are partially cut off.

Competition for Design of New U.N. Medal

The American Medallic Sculpture Association has been designated to conduct a competition for the design for this year's medal to honor World Food Day. The medal is to be produced and distributed by the Food and Agricultural Organization of the United Nations, which selects a different country each year to design the medal for the annual October 16 observance. The medals will be available worldwide in gold, silver, and bronze, from the organization's Rome headquarters.

The choice of this year's design will be selected by a jury designated by the American Medallic Sculpture Association, a group of sculptors and collectors of contemporary medals, whose travelling exhibition of medallic and bas-relief sculpture will be at the American Numismatic Association Museum in Colorado Springs this summer, and the Old Mint Museum in San Francisco this summer. The competition is open to all artists working in the United States, and the winning sculptor will receive $1,000. Plans are underway to exhibit submitted designs at the American Numismatic Society in New York and the Department of Agriculture in Washington, D.C.

Artists wishing guidelines for entries should write to: FAO Competition, c/o Dr. Alan M. Stahl, The American Numismatic Society, Broadway and 155th St., New York, NY 10032.

N.C.E. Spring Show in Chicago

The fifth spring National Collectibles Exposition held March 10-11, 1984, at Chicago's Ramada/O'Hare Inn, has been declared a success by show promotors, and dealers and collectors attending. Gate attendance was up significantly over the 1983 show (which featured a major snowstorm!).

Larry Marsh of A-Z Financial in St. Louis displayed a lovely U.S. Centennial bond. Lou Sutton from Virginia featured coal mine money, coal mine lanterns and related collectibles. Everitt Bowles of Georgia brought policital buttons and ribbons to Chicago, as did Jim Griffith of Akron, OH. From Michigan came Wade Bartenbaker of Waterford with old advertising signs and Paul Cunningham of Tecumseh, who featured a public auction of rare tokens and medals. Howard Rossen of Cleveland, a nationally known author and specialist, showed off a huge offering of World's Fair collectibles.

The National Collectibles Exposition will be in Ft. Mitchell, Kentucky, at the Drawbridge Inn Convention Center for a show July 21-22. This is the first time for the National Collectibles Exposition at this facility which is located just four miles south of Cincinnati on I-75.

Up to 90 dealers will be displaying all kinds of small collectibles, including jewelry, antique advertising signs, old sheet music, tokens and medals, postcards, coins, early documents, breweriana, country store collectibles, books, coin-op machines, maps, antique slot machines, movie memorabila, baseball cards, and 100 related areas. Admission is $2.50. General inquiries may be directed to Joel Reznick weekdays at 312-726-6375. Dealers may contact the National Collectibles Exposition at Box 3564, Gaithersburg, MD 20878 or call Robert Thomas at 301-840-5885 weekdays, evenings and weekends.

Exonumia Is in the Eye of the Beholder: Let's Have Photographs

by H.B. Moncure, TAMS 1177

Exonumia as a class of material things is hard to pin down. The fringe areas have no clearly defined criteria for inclusion or exclusion. No one has trouble with items which are clearly medals, tokens, pocket piece charms, advertising in coin-like form or the like, but where do you draw the line with items which are novelties, tags, and such? Lewis Ferguson, our "Mavericks" column editor, mentions the problem in his article "Unusual 'Token' Identified" (TAMS 1983:3) when Maverick 10,218 turned out to be a kerosene lamp part. This struck a responsive chord with me since I recently had a similar item, a knob face from a propane lamp, brought to me for a possible identification by a person who belived it to be a token. Still thinking about these circumstances I continued to browse through the February Journal. On page 30 Joseph Schmidt's "Unusual Tokens" article caught my eye. Wouldn't you know the first item described is one of those "foolers." The Carhartt item shown is indeed charming as described, but it is not very early, not personal, and not a token. It is the top section of an overall button, Carhartt brand blue jeans, overalls, and gloves are well known to button collectors, both for the play on words provided by the streetcar and the heart figure and for the number of buttons which are heart shaped (see illustration for a typical example). The planchet described in the Schmidt article is separated from the button back and shank.

The latter circumstance described above brings out an important point. The value of a photograph is demonstrated. I recognized the pictured button instantly whereas the written description alone may or may not have rung a bell in, say, a catalog or mail bid list. I once bid via mail on an item which was included without a picture in the list of a frequent TAMS advertiser. The item was described by its shape, dimensions, marking, and the added phrase "a screwdriver?" I have a small collection of key ring sized, multi-bladed, pocket screwdrivers (see illustration - these appear frequently in exomumia lists, which goes back to where do you draw the line?). So, since the description suited these fairly well I bid and won. What I received was one of those metal adaptors used in the 1950s to allow the playing of individual, large-center-hole, 45 r.p.m. records on a phonograph with a spindle sized for small holed 33 1/3 and 78 r.p.m. records. I don't for a moment think that the seller tried to misrepresent his merchandise. He just didn't recognize the item for what it was, as is indicated by the question mark used in his description. The point, however, is that a picture would have identified the item in the mail bid list. I urge the use of illustrations where attribution or identification is in question.

MAVERICKS

Due to the problems with the Journal I have accumulated a lot of mavericks that have been processed for publication. Thus please do not send more until I give the word. I will be sure to notify the readers in plenty of time. Oh yes, if there are any questions I can answer for you, just drop me a line. Lewis K. Ferguson, 1605 Roosevelt Ave., Ames, IA 50010.

Jersey Isles Fakes

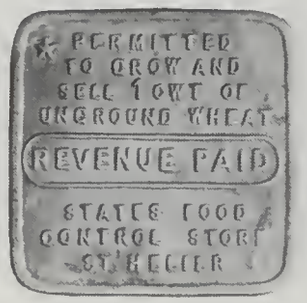
by Al Zaika, Chairman
Committee Against Copies,
Fakes and Fantasies

This group of tokens is represented as having been used by the Germans during their World War Two occupation of the Jersey Isles. Common logic shows this to be a questionable proposition. Brass and copper were in very short supply during that era, and the Germans wouldn't have wasted those metals in such a manner.

The die work and other characteristics of these pieces are similar to the fake Western tokens that flooded the market a few years ago; most likely they were fabricated by the same imaginative individuals.

Although some of these tokens have been reported in the Journal, and in their entirety in another publication, many of them are still appearing in dealers' price lists, major mail-bid sales, and coin shows, in the $10 - $15 price range. The set of 12 pieces was offered (and probably is still available) by a notorious purveyor of fake items at six dollars a set. At the initial cost of 50¢ each, the unscrupulous dealer makes a tidy profit with his high price tag. Let the collector beware!

Descriptions of the twelve tokens, all of which have blank reverses, follow:



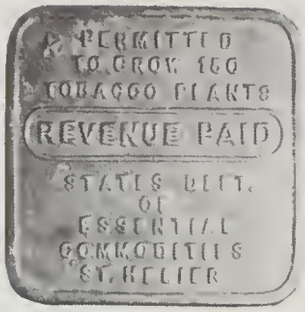
1. PERMITTED / TO GROW AND / SELL 1 CWT OF / UNGROUND WHEAT / REVENUE PAID / STATES FOOD / CONTROL STORE / ST. HELIER, copper, 35mm, square with rounded corners

2. SOLDATENHEIM / ST. HELIER / (eagle with wings spread perched on a wreath, within which is a swastika) / 3 RM, copper, 35mm, square with rounded corners

3. DAS FORUM KINO / HEER / (swastika) AUSWEIS (swastika) / 1941 / THE FORUM CINEMA, copper, 39mm, round

4. (eagle with wings spread perched on a wreath, within which is a swastika) / BROT, brass, 28mm, round

5. ISSUED / ST. PETERS PORT / FREE MILK / ONE PINT / MAX, brass, 28x39mm, rectangular with slanted top and bottom



6. PERMITTED / TO GROW 150 / TOBACCO PLANTS / REVENUE PAID / STATES DEPT. / OF / ESSENTIAL / COMMODITIES / ST. HELIER, brass, 35mm, square with rounded corners

7. 3 R M / (eagle with wings spread, perched on swastika) / SOLDATENHEIM / ST. BRELADES, brass, 35mm, square with rounded corners

8. OFFICIAL / TOKEN / 5 R.M. / JERSEY / FIVE REICHMARKS, brass, 38x41mm, triangular with rounded corners

9. INTERNATIONAL RED CROSS / GUERNSEY / (cross) / CHANNEL ISLANDS / PARCEL, zinc, 32mm, round

No picture available.

10. SOLDATENHEIM / (within shell shaped outline, eagle perched upon lightning bolt aimed at islands) / ST. HELIER UND ST. BRELADES / 25 R.M., zinc, 33x63mm, rectangular

11. ORGANISATION TODT / (swastika) AUSWEIS (swastika) / BRITISCHE KANALINSELN, zinc, 39x64mm, oval

12. ORGANISATION TODT / (swastika) 5 R M (swastika) / BRITISCHE KANALINSELN, zinc, 39x64mm, oval

Members are urged to report any known or suspected copies, fakes, or fantasies to me at P.O. Box 65, Bellmawr, NJ 08031.

One of the Greatest Numismatic Events of Our Time

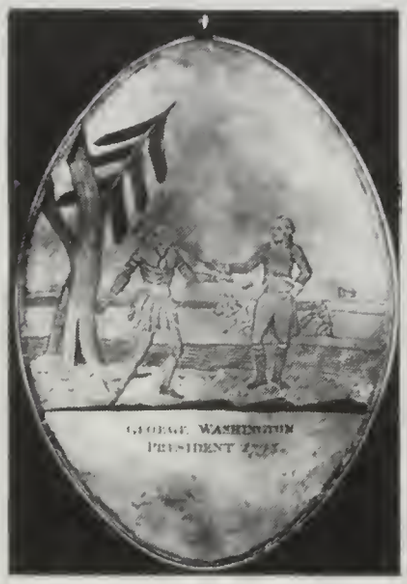
The sale by Auctions by Bowers and Merena, Inc. of the

Virgil M. Brand Collection, Part II

New York City, June 18-19, 1984

The Collections of Admiral Oscar H. Dodson and Dr. Richard L. Collier

New York City, June 19-21, 1984



1793 Washington Indian Peace Medal

Virgil M. Brand

PLAN TO BE IN NEW YORK CITY in June. Or, we invite you to bid by mail. Either way, two simply spectacular auctions are in store for you.

THE VIRGIL M. BRAND COLLECTION, PART II, to be sold by order of the Morgan Guaranty Trust Company, New York, an executor of the estate of Jane Brand Allen, will be described in a catalogue which on its own will be a permanent reference book for years to come. Described in detail, illustrated (in most instances), and presented for your bidding consideration will be the following: United States colonial coins — highlighted by two Higley threepence pieces, a Bermuda rarity. Rosa Americana patterns, the 1776 brass pattern Continental $1 with dotted links on the reverse, a 1787 Transposed Arrows Massachusetts cent, two superb 1787 Indian / Eagle on Globe New York coppers, and others. Medals include: 1793 Washington Indian peace medal by Joseph Richardson, Jr., an American classic. A complete set of six presentation Proof 1796 Washington Seasons medals in fitted case, certainly one of the most important offerings in numismatic history. Washington medals (by Baker numbers). U.S. Mint medals (by R.W. Julian numbers). Masonic chapter pennies (by King numbers). Political medals and badges (by DeWitt-Sullivan numbers). Exposition items, award medals, etc. TERRITORIAL OR PIONEER GOLD: 1830 Templeton Reid $5 and $10, Bechtler gold, Mormon gold, Oregon gold, J. Conway gold $5, California and Colorado pattern issues, and the following California gold coins (among others): 1849 Cincinnati Mining & Trading Co. $10 struck over a J.S. Ormsby $10 (an amazing coin!), 1849 Pacific Company $10, 1849 J.S. Ormsby $10, etc. U.S. GOLD: Regular $1, $2½, $3, $5, $10, and $20 issues, including rarities and Proofs. Catalogue, including a list of prices realized (to be sent after the sale), $10 softbound, deluxe hardbound library edition (with prices realized; available after the sale to those who have also ordered the softbound catalogue), $45. Biography of the collector, VIRGIL BRAND: THE MAN AND HIS ERA, by Q. David Bowers, $29.

THE COLLECTIONS OF ADMIRAL OSCAR H. DODSON AND DR. RICHARD L. COLLIER, plus important coins from the Rudy Sieck Collection, the Dr. Stanley Sherr Collection, and the estates of Anthony M. Wyse and Frank Darner, and other properties. Offered will be United States coins from colonials through gold. The Dr. Stanley Sherr collection of 1786-1788 New Jersey copper coins will form an important part of the catalogue. Half cents, large cents, 3-cent and 5-cent pieces, Liberty seated silver coinage, Barber coins, Mercury dimes, Liberty standing and Washington quarters, Liberty walking and Franklin halves, a fantastic offering of Morgan and Peace silver dollars, United States gold coins from $1 to $20, commemorative silver and gold coins (including the Anthony M. Wyse Collection, specializing in commemoratives), and other items will be sold. A very important offering of tokens, medals, storecards, and exonumia will comprise a major section of the catalogue as well. A major collection of encased postage stamps. Territorial gold coins from the Rudy Sieck Collection, a very important offering of Matte Proof gold coins 1908-1915, and other U.S. coins await you. Coins of the world include important talers and crowns, including many classics, world gold coins, and other specialties. Ancient coins will likewise form a section of the catalogue. Catalogue: $10 by advance reservation (includes a list of prices realized, an important market guide, to be sent after the sale).

ORDERS ARE NOW BEING ACCEPTED for these two magnificent color-illustrated "Grand Format" catalogues. Each will be a permanent reference work for years to come. As the cost of producing, printing, and delivering the catalogues is greater than the $10 each charged for softbound copies, we place a limit on one of each catalogue per person.

SPECIAL OFFER: These two catalogues, which would cost you $20 if you order the pair, can be purchased as part of our Annual Subscription Plan. For just $35 you will receive the following: OUR NEXT SIX auction catalogues, including both June 1984 catalogues described above, plus prices realized for each sale (to be sent after each sale), a value of $60. PLUS, you will receive our next six "Rare Coin Review" magazines, each with a cover price of $3, or an additional $18 value. The total value, if purchased separately, is $78. You can subscribe for less than half that price, or just $35! NOTICE: Limit: one subscription per person, as it costs us over twice the subscription price to send the publications to you. Further, subscriptions are solicited from ACTIVE NUMISMATISTS only; subscriptions from others are respectfully declined.

FILL OUT THE ORDER BLANK below and send it to us today. When our two June catalogues are ready they will be sent to you.

CODE OF ETHICS

TOKEN AND MEDAL SOCIETY

Membership in the Token and Medal Society is a privilege extended to those who subscribe to the purposes of the Society and who meet the other prerequisites of membership.

The Code of Ethics has been duly adopted by the Board of Governors of the Society to serve as a standard of conduct to which members should aspire. A breach of ethics by any member reflects, directly or indirectly, upon other members, the Society and upon the sincerity of our purpose. Such a breach is therefore prejudicial to the welfare of the Token and Medal Society and may be cause for disciplinary action by the Board of Governors.

Membership in the Token and Medal Society carries with it the commitment:

1. To support and be governed by the By-laws of the Token and Medal Society and such amendments, resolutions and policies as may be established.
2. To abide by all federal, state and local laws relating to numismatics and to tokens and medals in particular.
3. To conduct oneself so as to bring no reproach or discredit to the Token and Medal Society or to impair the prestige of membership therein, or the collecting of tokens and medals.
4. To abstain from buying or selling tokens, medals, or other numismatic and hobby material of which the ownership is questionable, and to report promptly to the proper law enforcement agencies information on suspected stolen material.
5. To promote the education of collectors and students of tokens and medals and a fraternal relationship among them.
6. To conduct transactions in tokens and medals fairly, with integrity that is responsive to legal requirements and to the highest ethical standards.

Been on the block for 32 years. Saw some questionable hobby programs come down from Washington in that time. Got involved with all of them. Knew from experience what to do — how to go about changing minds and policies.

Victories for the hobby were sweet. There are more to come. Stick with us. Support us. Now more than ever, we're ready to serve your interests.

IOWA TRADE TOKENS

by Lewis K. Ferguson

Published by Token and Medal Society

From Ackley to Zearing . . . all known examples — over 7500 — of Iowa trade tokens are cataloged in this long awaited, up-dated edition. Lewis K. Ferguson the author, is considered to be the authority on this subject, having produced the first edition, Trade Tokens of Iowa, in 1972. Since that time, thousands of new tokens have surfaced, which necessitated an increase in size from 394 pages to 520!

The introduction gives a brief history of the important role the token played in our economic society. Also explained is the easy-to-use cataloging system, plus a rarity rating which is an important factor when determining value. This 6x9 volume is casebound and has the title stamped in gold on the front cover as well as the spine.

A special discount is being offered to TAMS members.
